EDIBLE BOOK CONTEST

Saturday · March 6 · 10am–4pm

A delicious event! The rules for this contest are simple. Create something that is edible and book related. The Edible Book contest is open to all ages. See page 8 for more details.

Dear Community,

I would like to thank our superheroes who help the library in so many ways. We can't do it without you.

The Upper Saddle River Board of Trustees who give us guidance and support— Nona Maher, Tom Bono, Scot Hamilton, Jay Kolton, Marie Hornstein, Dr. Monica Browne and Mayor Ken Gabbert.

Our wonderful Friends group led by Rita Hagen. Rosemarie Manganaro, our ESL coordinator and our wonderful ESL mentors. Mikey Lustberg who sends out all the Friends PR, Marie Hornstein, Jonna Myers, Barbara Greenberg, Alice Limina, Bea Newell, Sondra Boden, Susan Bauer, Barbara Hymans, Linda Napolitano, Alyce Perez, Smadar Berlinger, Elbiz Baghdikian, Leslie Edelman, Majken Elgarro, Gayle Ianuzzi. Lucy Bontempi and the Bookroom crew who faithfully tend to the used book room weekly.

Library volunteers Harry Collins, who helps with our delivery service; Vali Mohpatra and Louise Vitale who help with it all.

Thank you to all of the community organizations who support the library. SRVJCO, Junior Woman's, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Lions Club. And thanks to anyone I might have forgotten that has helped us achieve another wonderful year. We wouldn't be what we are today without you.

~Thank-you, Barbara

Put a PhD in your pocket with...

Students who carry an iPhone or iPod Touch can find a Ph.D. in their pocket. Not just any Ph.D.—an encouraging, friendly (nerdy) scholar who wants you to love learning. (Of course, you can find Shmoop on your laptop as well!)

Each Shmoop Application Includes:

- Story overview & chapter summaries
- Analysis of important quotes
- Plot analysis
- Character analysis
- Themes and how they come into play in the story
- Analysis of symbolism, genre, tone, style, and touchy-feely stuff
- Study question
- Quiz-o-Rama— A fast-paced quiz game tests readers' knowledge of the book – perfect for a last-minute cram session or simply to help build those brain muscles and impress those dates.
- Includes literature, poetry, best sellers, U.S. history, civics, biography and music.

Visit upsaddleriverlibrary.org and open your Shmoop account today! It's free and easy!

2nd Annual Edible Book Contest Bake & Vote!

SATURDAY · March 6
10am–4pm

Bake a cake and or stop by the Library to vote.

The winners of this contest will be decided by public vote. Please stop by the library Saturday March 6, from 11:00am to 4:00pm and vote for your favorite cake.

If you are a baker the rules for this contest are simple. Create something that is edible and book related. Do the titles
“How to eat Fried Worms”, “Give a Mouse a Cupcake”, or
The Scarlet Letter” conjure up ideas for edible art? Please drop off your entries between 10:00am and 11:00 am on March 6th.

The contest is open to all ages.
Ribbons will be awarded in three categories: Children, Adult and Family. The contest winners will be announce at 4:30pm.

All works of art submitted must be edible and have something to do with books. Participants may make books out of anything edible...there are sandwich books, leaves of seaweed, phyllo dough pages, and even cakes! Anything that you eat can somehow become a literary masterpiece.

Visit our website www.uppersaddleriverlibrary.org for inspiration from last years Edible Book contest.

Thank You for helping to make 2009 another successful year for the Library.
